SING.PLAY.LOVE.

SING.PLAY.LOVE.® is a unique outcomes-based program that helps early childhood professionals and parents share fun and engaging songs, picture books, music videos, and other instructional supports to teach young children important skills for early learning and kindergarten readiness.

Developed by music therapist and early interventionist Anne Meeker, Ph.D., the program utilizes music and play-filled activity to help children learn and practice skills for social-emotional development, language, and literacy.

“I want all young children to LOVE learning.” --Dr. Anne Meeker

A Message from Anne Meeker

“I developed the SING.PLAY.LOVE.® program for one important reason: I want all young children to love learning. And as a music therapist and early childhood specialist, I’ve made it my life’s work to figure out the best ways to help youngsters fall in love with learning. What I have discovered from working – and playing - with thousands of toddlers and preschoolers is that music is a powerful and important teaching tool. Music can make learning playful, pleasurable, and magical. SING.PLAY.LOVE.® is a unique outcomes-based program that motivates and engages children to learn the skills they need to be successful in school. I would love to partner with you to help you teach the child or children you love all the things they need to be successful in school and in life. I truly believe that we can work together to teach your child to love learning, as we create a strong foundation of social-emotional and academic skills.”

“Where the Wild Things Are.” – Songs and Strategies for Supporting Young Children with Challenging Behaviors

Discover how to blend intervention and prevention to help children who exhibit challenging behaviors, while guiding all children toward positive self-esteem and school success. Anne will describe ways music-and-play-based strategies can support the work of teachers desiring to implement the Teaching Pyramid model and Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS). Learn how to build supportive relationships with all children as you teach the social and emotional skills children need to learn and grow.
